

What kind of bird is that...

When trying to identify a bird, the first things to look for are location and behavior. Is the bird up high making noise, or on the ground digging in leaves? Next, think about size and shape. Is it big like a crow, or small like a sparrow? Does it have pointy wings, or a long tail? Finally, you can use field marks to identify birds – flip to the back panel to discover how.

in the trees?

Almost all the birds of the DC Region use trees and shrubs for food, shelter, or nesting. Woodpeckers and chickadees make their nests in the cavities of trees and pick insects from the bark. Trees can provide seeds and berries for birds such as cardinals and goldfinches to eat. Look into the trees. How many different birds can you find? _____ What parts of the tree are the birds using? _____

Downy Woodpecker
Picoides pubescens
"Pik, pik, pik"

Carolina Chickadee
Poecile carolinensis
"chickadeedeede"

Northern Cardinal
Cardinalis cardinalis
whistles "woit woit
chew chew chew."

American Goldfinch
Carduelis tristis
"per-chik-o-ry"

on the ground?

Birds that feed on the ground usually specialize in catching bugs or finding seeds. American Robins use their beaks to pull earthworms from the ground. Juncos and towhees scratch through leaves to uncover fallen seeds and berries. Mourning doves peck insects and seeds from gravelly areas. Check the ground near trail, stream and field edges. How many different birds can you find? _____ Can you tell what they are eating? _____

American Robin
Turdus migratorius
"plurri, kliwi,
plurri, kliwi"

Eastern Towhee
Pipilo erythrophthalmus
"drink your teeeee"

Dark-eyed Junco
Junco Hyemalis

Carolina Wren
Thryothorus ludovicianus varied "pidaro pidaro pidaro"

Northern Mockingbird
Mimus polyglottos
varied phrases "krrDEE krrDEE
krrDEE, jeurrdi jeurrdi"

in the air?

Birds that spend a lot of time in the air use their strong eyesight to find food. Hawks, crows and vultures can usually be found perched or circling up high as they search for their next meal. Scan the sky over fields and through openings in the trees. Are there any large birds flying overhead? _____ Are they flapping or gliding? _____

Turkey Vulture
Cathartes aura
warning "hsssss"

Red-tailed Hawk
Buteo jamaicensis
"chewwww" raspy scream

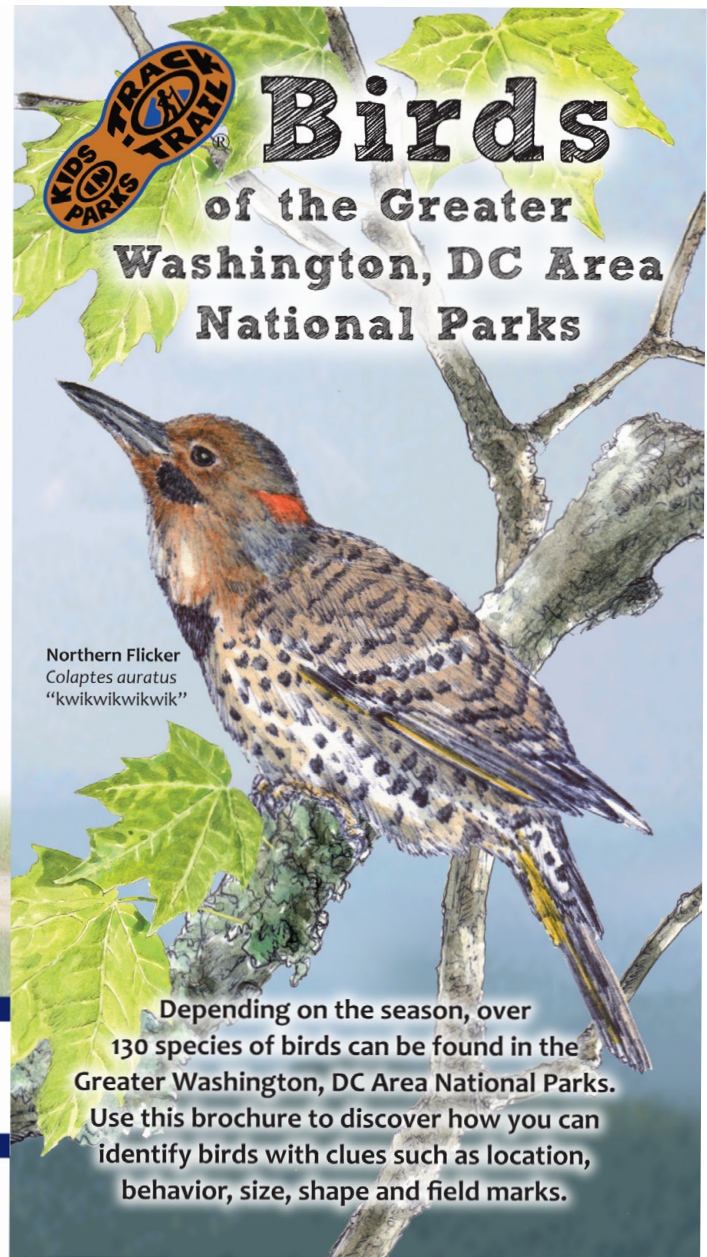

American Crow
Corvus brachyrhynchos
"caww caww"

making noise?

Birds make all kinds of noises – some sing to attract a mate, while others will call attention to food, danger or territory. Carolina wrens are known for their loud, cheerful song and chattering sounds. Northern mockingbirds can imitate hundreds of different sounds, and will sometimes sing at night! Close your eyes and listen for one minute. How many different birds can you hear around you? _____

Field Marks

In addition to size, shape, location and behavior, field marks can be used to help identify birds. If you can't identify a bird in the field, remembering what certain parts of the bird looked like can help you identify it when you get home. On your birding adventure, try to find a bird you don't know and see if it has any of the following field marks:

Blue Jay
Cyanocitta cristata
harsh "jayy"

- wing bars
Does the bird have wing bars or patches?
- tail bars
Are there any stripes across the bird's tail?
- tail markings
Does the bird have white edges on its tail or a different color on the tip?
- nape
Is the bird's nape a different color?
- belly
What color is the bird's belly?
- side
Does the bird have coloring on the sides?
- breast
Does the breast have speckles or bands of color?
- throat
Is the bird's throat a different color?
- eyebrow
Does the bird have an eyebrow? What color?
- beak or bill
What shape and color are the beak?
- eyestripe
Does the bird have a stripe through the eye?
- crowns
Does the bird have a colored "cap" or a crest on its head?
